HOUSE CLEANING

Every aid to house cleaning is a blessing. Whatever helps to lessen labor and make the work easier should be secured.

Casper's Cleaning Compound.

This is a very superior article. It removes grease spots, stains, foot marks and dirt. It brightens up the colors and gives a fresh new look. It is easily applied with a sponge and does the work rapidly without taking up the carpet. It is cheap—does a gallon: 1/2 gallon bottles, 30c. Dr. Casper has made a specialty of this for years.

SAPOLIO.

This will clean painted wood work in half the time of ordinary soap. Neither does it make the paint yellow. It is also extra good for cleaning windows. Only 10c a cake or 2 for 25c. at Casper's.

Tough Sponges, Chamote Skins, Furniture Polish, Gritte Varnish, Aqua Ammonia, and other aids, all for sale at

CASPER'S Drug Store,

Fisher's Block, Main Street, 34 Door West of Limestone, Springfield.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Miss Helen McBeth left this afternoon via the Pan Handle for Pittsburg.

John Ebert, drunk and using profane language, was arrested last night.

Miss Pearl Means, of Yellow Springs, was in the city today calling on friends.

Mr. Daniel Sully and company arrived this morning and are quartered at the Arcade.

Mrs. Hexter, of Pittsburg, who has been the guest of Mrs. Walter Fallows, returned home today.

Dr. C. O. Probst, of Columbus, secretary of the State Board of Health, was in the city yesterday.

Rev. J. B. Helwig has changed his residence from the corner of Pleasant and Factory to 171 south Factory.

Dr. Buckingham, Mr. Chandler Robbins and Mr. Charles Ludlow left for Chicago last evening via the Pan Handle.

Con. Span and Albert Summers, drunk and disorderly, were each fined $5 and costs in the Police Court yesterday afternoon.

Mr. John Davis, father-in-law of Mr. Robert Porter, died this morning at his house in Pitchin. The funeral will be held at the church in Pitchin on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The interment will be at Bloxom's cemetery.

Dress Well.

"Dress thy habit as thy purse can buy. But not expressed in fancy, rich, not gaudy." —Shakespeare.

Nature has not been so lavish in her gifts that we can afford to despise them, and any assistance that we can render, in the way of making our personal appearance as attractive as possible, should be cheerfully given.

As our friend Shakespeare says, a man should dress as well as his means will justify, and there is no surer means of attaining this end than by examining the select new fall shipments of the justly celebrated Clay Worsted's for dress purposes; the elegant line of overcoatings, gray, black and blue Elysian, Ratines and Montagnes now offered to the public by Jason W. Phillips, No. 39 east Main street.

These goods are the newest, dressiest and most graceful patterns that money can buy, and to the purchaser a stylish, well-made, perfectly-fitting garment is assured.

Mrs. S. G. Hunt, of south Market, has returned from a pleasant visit with friends in Rochester, N. Y.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac C. Weeks, of Clinton street, died last evening. The remains will be taken to Fairfield Sunday morning for interment.

Mr. George Thompson, of the Lagoda house, left today for a visit to Circleville and Chillicothe, his old haunts. He goes to recruit and to enjoy himself.

Mrs. Morris Officer, who is on her way from Topeka, Kansas, to Tallahassee, is spending a couple of weeks with her daughter, Mrs. S. P. Dunlap, on the north side.

Mayor O. S. Kelly returned last night from St. Louis, where he has been attending the fair at that city. The Mayor says that he saw President and Mrs. Cleveland at St. Louis.

On next Tuesday evening, October 11th, the ladies of the Second Lutheran church will hold an odd social and supper, served in a rather lunatic way. Everybody come to the crazy social.

Miss Maggie Leonard and Miss Ellen Hallisey, of Springfield, are visiting Mrs. James Welsh, on Cincinnati avenue, and are having a pleasant and enjoyable time among a large circle of friends. —Xenia Gazette.

Mr. Edgar Jameson, who is in charge of the dress goods department at Kinnane, Wren & Co.'s, is one of the most accomplished window dressers in the city. His excellent taste displayed in the arrangement of the firm's dress goods window this week is attracting much comment.

In point of medicinal power and excellence Hop Plasters are far ahead of all others. 25 cents.

Cost of Traveling in Siberia.

I have averaged on the whole from Vladivostok to London about thirty shillings a day, including everything. You can cross the length and breadth of Siberia, traveling first class by steamers and driving three horses in your tarantass, for £100, and do the distance in about two months and a half. The food is very cheap, not very good. In the long drive from Stretinsk to Tomsk, about 1,200 miles, you run the risk of faring somewhat poorly at the various post stations. You are always sure of having a samovar with boiling water, with which to make tea, and milk, with sometimes a chicken. Beyond that the resources of the post houses do not often go. The cost of living on the steamer, where you have very good fare, is about four shillings a day.

The cheapest thing is the driving. At every ten to twenty miles along the main route you come upon a post house, maintained by the government, where you change horses. You buy your own carriage, a springless vehicle, which does very well on smooth routes, but which jolts you terribly when the route is bad, and which you sell when you get on the far end. I bought my tarantass at one end for £15, and sold it at the other end for £4, having taken £9 of jolting out of it in the 1,200 miles which it carried me safely. You drive from two to five horses, and travel at about the rate of six miles an hour. You pay for the horses three pence a mile for the three—one pence a mile per horse. In the very far east you only pay half that or one and one half pence a mile for three horses, which is certainly not dear. But most of the way you pay three pence a mile for the three. The driver, who is also provided by the government, receives a gratuity of four pence per stage of ten miles.—Hon. James Campbell in Pall Mall Gazette Interview.
